

Abortion rates for Indiana counties in 2021.

An Indiana state judge recently issued a preliminary injunction against a state law, enacted after the U.S. Supreme Court removed federal abortion protections by overturning Roe v. Wade, that would ban nearly all abortions. In 2021, Indiana residents received 7,949 abortions. Marion County's rate of 12.4 abortions per 1,000 females of child-bearing age* was 2.32 times higher than the next highest county and 5 times higher than the state's county average. Ohio and Vermillion counties tied for the lowest rate.

*Female of child-bearing age: 10 to 49-years-old.
